UTC Graduate Student Leadership Development Seminars

Investing in Your Academic Writing

Dr. Patricia Goodson

Presidential Professor for Teaching Excellence
Texas A&M University

Monday, April 1, 2019 • 4:00 p.m. PST • 7:00 p.m. EST

SAVE THE DATE: Webinar and group viewing information will be provided at a later date

Struggling with your academic writing? Stuck?
Overwhelmed? Inefficient? Joy-less?

Most likely, you lack a system for taking control of the writing process. In this session, you will learn how to develop a useful system/model for becoming an accomplished academic writer.

The presentation will be interactive; live attendance or webinar attendance in groups is strongly encouraged.

About the Speaker

Dr. Goodson is the founding Director of POWER Services at Texas A&M University. POWER – Promoting Outstanding Writing for Excellence in Research – began in 2007 to support graduate students’ and faculty’s academic writing.

Dr. Goodson is a professor in the Department of Health & Kinesiology at Texas A&M University and, alongside a health-focused research agenda, has taught writing productivity courses for several years. She authored the book, “Becoming an Academic Writer: 50 Exercises for Paced, Productive, and Powerful Writing”.

About the Seminars

Two U.S. DOT University Transportation Centers (UTCs) at the Texas A&M Transportation Institute, together with their partner institutions, co-sponsor this leadership development series, offering opportunities for graduate students to hone leadership and job skills beyond the classroom. The series is open to Texas A&M graduate students with an interest in transportation.
