

This project helped me gain real world understanding of adverse situations drivers may be involved in. I was able to understand and dissect important aspects of situations to understand various processes and driver behaviors that not only may happen, but have happened in real situations, which have given me greater insight and understanding in the development of my dissertation topic.

Thanks, Safe-D,

Richard Greatbatch